8 Globemaster Squadron
10th Annual Ceremonial Review

David West
Mayor
City of Richmond Hill

MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

On behalf of the City of Richmond Hill and Members of Council, I am pleased to bring greetings to the 8 Globemaster Royal Canadian Air Cadets RCAC Squadron on the auspicious occasion of your Annual Ceremonial Review.

The skills that you have practiced in the Cadets program will be an asset to you your whole lives. The importance of setting goals, maintaining your physical and mental health, practicing time management skills, and striving for achievements are qualities you have been encouraged to develop in your time with the Air Cadets Squadron. These same skills can help you achieve success in any path you many choose. It is important to acknowledge that the past two years have been difficult for many people and the determination you have shown during the pandemic should be commended. I am proud to acknowledge your resilience in navigating the many challenges and hurdles you have faced.

As citizens of Richmond Hill and future leaders in our society, I wish you success as you continue your academic journeys with the strong foundation you have built with the 8 Globemaster Royal Canadian Air Cadets RCAC Squadron. I would like to congratulate you on your successful year.

Regards,

A MESSAGE FROM THE COMMANDING OFFICER

Major Paul Yu
Commanding Officer
8 Globemaster Squadron
Royal Canadian Air Cadets

At the beginning of this training year 2021-22, I set the theme as "Awaken" (shown in the next page).

After we set goals, it is important for us to evaluate the progress; whether we are still on track or we need to readjust the course to meet the ever-changing environment. On this last day of the training year, I am very glad to announce that our objectives are all met. This is a successful year for 8 Globemaster amid all the challenges.

The success and achievements are results of tremendous effort and time put in by cadets, staff, and the Squadron Sponsoring Committee (SSC). I must also thank the parents who understand and support the Cadet Program which helps their children to become effective managers, leaders, and good citizens.

The pandemic will end one day. Since we have "Awoken", it is time for us to prepare for a better tomorrow. Life is full of surprises and challenges; this is why we need to build the 8 Globemaster family together, to support and assist one another, to learn and have fun together.

"Hope is being able to see that there is light despite all the darkness..."

~ Desmond Tutu

AWAKEN

8 Globemaster Squadron's 2021-2022 Training Year's Theme is "Awaken"

The definition for "Awaken", according to the Oxford dictionary:

- To rouse from sleep; bring out, inspire, excite, kindle
- To make someone aware of (something) for the first time

Situation:

- The pandemic has been changing the world so much.
- Everyone's life and future are affected. Cadet Training must adapt to changes.
- It is important for everyone to understand the present situation, be aware of challenges/opportunities, and prepare well for the future. Everyone needs to face and deal with reality!

Methods:

1. Promote and practice good communication with one another, make teams, share responsibilities, and enjoy good rewards/results.
2. Make use of Virtual and Hybrid environments; meanwhile, explore new methods and technologies.
3. Conduct more optional interesting and positive activities.
4. Cadets create and lead clubs for hobbies and fun activities, even for a small group.

Expected Benefits Gained:

1. Cadets learn new knowledge through the Cadet Training syllabus in a safe environment.
2. Cadets acquire important life skills: teamwork, management, and leadership. □
3. Cadets become more independent, confident, responsible, and considerate. □
4. Cadets make more friends for life and enjoy support from one another. □
5. Cadets find 8 Globemaster is their "family" where they are supported, cared for and able to grow.

We all need to wake up, stay alert and be prepared...

REVIEWING OFFICER, JULIAN WEST

Mr. Julian West of Legion Branch 375 is the Reviewing Officer for 8 Globemaster's 10th Annual Ceremonial Review. He is the Immediate Past President of the Royal Canadian Legion (RCL) Branch 375, and a past council member of RCL E2 Zone. Mr. West has served many years as a Senior Chair at RCL Zone, as the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 375 Liaison officer with the City of Richmond Hill for Remembrance Day Parade, and he has served in the Canadian Armed Forces.

Mr. West is a veteran, and 8 Globemaster Squadron has the honor of having him as the 2021-2022 Reviewing Officer.

A MESSAGE FROM THE SSC CHAIR

Lesley Yan
Squadron Sponsoring
Committee, Chair
8 Globemaster Squadron
Royal Canadian Air Cadets

It has been a thrilling year for 8 Globemaster Squadron! This is our 10th anniversary, and I am so relieved that we have finally returned to in-person training to commemorate a decade since our inception. It was a pleasure to meet many of our parents as we have exchanged emails for the past few months, and wonderful to meet our volunteers and cadets since we went virtual! I am glad to see that many of you have continued to stay with the Air Cadet Program, and you have all become strong leaders in our community!

I would like to thank parents for your support in these unprecedented times. Your understanding and flexibility have helped us transition to in-person training smoothly. As a parent, I understand the challenges of maintaining busy schedules and sacrificing for our child's commitment to the Air Cadet program.

Under the mentorship of Major Paul Yu, the staff team has worked tirelessly to advance the delivery of training. As many of you were once graduates of the cadet program, your return to assist 8 Squadron has helped to expand the pride and legacy of the Air Cadets Program. Your devotion and hard work have paid off!

A special thank you to my SSC members for your support and dedication. After many cups of coffee and sleepless nights, we extended beyond our duties to coordinate resources to support cadet activities. We may share different opinions, but our decisions are all for the benefit of the cadets! As we approach another year of in-person training, we will need to expand the SSC family to accommodate the demands of a growing squadron. Parents, the SSC needs your support more than ever in the succeeding training year, especially in coordinating tagging activities.

Have a great summer and look forward to the beginning of another exciting training year!

HISTORY OF 8 GLOBEMASTER SQUADRON

Our squadron was founded in 2012, and was originally a subdivision of our sister squadron, 778 Banshee RCACS. This is our tenth Annual Ceremonial Review, and we are honored to share our history with you for this special occasion.

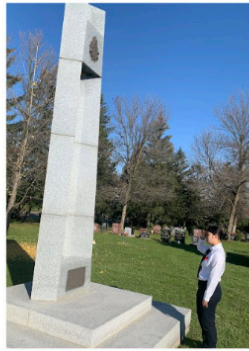

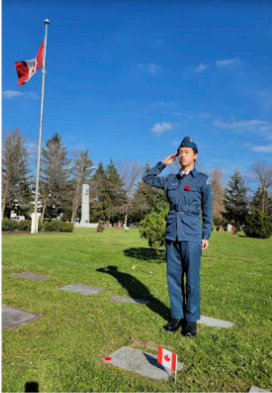

While we are a relatively new squadron, we still have a number of noteworthy achievements. We have various optional training teams, like Band, Biathlon, Rocketry, Drill, Effective Speaking, Orienteering, and Media Team. From members of our squadron placing first in a regional Effective Speaking competition, to cadets competing in Drill, Marksmanship, and Biathlon competitions, we've accomplished quite a lot. Clubs newly launched this year have been finding their footing in our squadron, while others, such as Rocketry Club have their first cadet-affiliated rocket set to launch this year!

Pre-pandemic, we had worked with a lot of different organizations, and participated in events such as Santa Claus parades, Remembrance Day ceremonies, various parades, tagging fundraisers, and assisting with the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 375.

We are proud of our cadets, and the officers who make it possible for us to have this wonderful learning environment! We appreciate our members of the squadron who do everything they can to benefit our future.

2021-2022

YEAR IN REVIEW

FLIGHTS BAND

FSgt Chan, Wing Hong

Good day, Band flight! I'm proud to be your flight commander this year, of a flight that holds well in unexpected changes. From my perspective, it was as if a fire had swept through our flight, making us a tighter group than we had planned. But what it left behind was a flame we used to light the dark days and guide us smoothly through passing standards and leading an enjoyable year.

Thank you all for encouraging me and trusting my ability to be an IC while we all tried to juice the web to deliver the best program. I'm likewise confident in all of you — as much as I am in the Sun rising tomorrow. No matter what next year brings you, your character traits and active participation show everyone that success is one thing you'll find ahead. As a junior, I learned from the actions of the seniors. When it became my turn to lead, I did my best to be a good role model. Nobody's perfect, but you've been such good people that it pains me to leave. But now that I'm aging out, I hope I've left you more satisfied, experienced and prepared.

Being in band flight this year felt more "cozy" than ever,
as our deficit of flight members actually made us work more as a close-knit family and not just a mere flight.
Flight times during mandatory training really exemplified this;
we cooperated and displayed teamwork very effectively while we were doing activities such as drawing "stop motion" cartoons, pictorial, etc., all because of our superior band bond.

FLIGHTS CYCLONE

FSgt Ching, Issac

Cyclone Flight, I am honoured to be your Flight Commander in the 2021-2022 training year.

As a junior cadet, I had the opportunity to join Cyclone Flight. Despite my short affiliation with Cyclone, the mentorship, energetic nature, and welcoming community revealed the value of Air Cadets. As a Flight Commander, my goal was to recreate the same environment, and I hope that I have succeeded in inspiring every cadet to continue their cadet journey. For all my junior cadets, I am amazed by your adaptability to the cadet standards, especially during our flight time gatherings. Through commitment and perseverance, everyone quickly grasped and executed new drill movements flawlessly, despite the challenges posed by virtual training. For all my third and fourth-year cadets, your leadership and exceptional organizational skills have been incredibly helpful throughout the year. While my time as a Flight Commander is approaching its end, I hope that we will continue to bond and work together for the success of Cyclone. Once more Cyclone Flight, say it loud and proud, Low-Pressure System!

It was an amazing time as the march break camp and many of the meetings helped me trough out the time as I never felt bored these days.

FLIGHTS FALCON

FSgt Ho, Angus

As the flight commander of Falcon Flight, I gained various precious leadership experiences.

First, I would like to thank 8 Globemaster Squadron for giving me an opportunity to lead Falcon Flight. Over the last year, I am so happy to see the significant growth of juniors and seniors in this virtual training environment. Although we were mostly virtual, our flight members overcame all the obstacles ahead of them. I'm glad all of you were part of not only my journey but your own journey in an amazing program. For my juniors, your journey has just started in this cadet program. I hope you can apply what you learned this year and continue to persevere through all the challenges in the future. For my seniors, after being in the squadron for a longer time, I hope you can be a great model for the juniors and assist them as an outstanding leader. Take the skies!

This cadet year has definitely been interesting.

Being in charge of a section has come with its own challenges and rewards.

Overall I have had the pleasure to see Falcon Flight evolve this year.

Both in flight time activities and in changes in leadership of the flight.

Comparing this flight now from to what it was when I originally joined.

I can confidently say that Falcon flight will continue to thrive and improve under both current and future IC's/2IC's.

FLIGHTS POLARIS

FSgt Forchune, Alan

Pondering the time I spent is a journey, and my Polaris journey ends in the 2021-

2022 training year. Each training night, FTX, and event has shaped me into the cadet I am today. Each and every year, Polaris has cadets that lead the squadron to Go The Distance. For the level 1s and 2s, the online period has been tough, but the ability to adapt is what being a cadet is all about. Each and every year, your continued hard work will help you progress further not only as a cadet, but in your personal life as well. Levels 3s and 4s, your dedication and commitment to the program will produce success at the highest level. Leading Polaris will be difficult, but I am certain you will succeed. Although my time as a proud Polaris flight member closes, I hope you all see me your equal, as everyone in Polaris must work to succeed. As we always have said, Lead The Way!

My experience with my flight was great.
I had so much fun and I learned so many things.
I hope I am with this flight next year too!
- Cheung, Jayden

FLIGHTS

VIPER

FSgt Wang, Julian

Over the last two years, I have had the honour to serve as the second-in-command (2IC) and later flight commander of Viper. In 2019, I transferred to 8 Globemaster Squadron and was welcomed into Viper Flight by all of its cadets. As a senior in Viper, I have strived to continue to create this welcoming environment for all cadets, both juniors and seniors. Together, over the past two years, we have worked hard to navigate the previously unknown and uncharted virtual training environment. Our ability to overcome the switch to remote training and other challenges is a testament to our flight's determination and dedication. I have the utmost confidence in all our cadets and am sure that they will be strong, resilient future leaders of our squadron. To all Viper Flight cadets, I would like to thank you all for being a wonderful flight this training year and I hope you continue to excel. Remember, strike the stars!

It was and is a lot of fun, I had the chance to meet a lot of new people and I look forward to my next year in cadets.

LEVELS

LEVEL 1

Level 1 cadets are exposed to all elements of the Air Cadet program. They receive instruction on basic drill and aviation, how to maintain their uniform, basic survival, air rifle practices and the importance of teamwork. They participate in a variety of squadron events to find their interests to excel in future years.

LEVEL 2

Cadets in Level 2 further explore aspects of the Air Cadet Program. They begin to excel at drill and uniform components, demonstrate effective teamwork and begin to learn the basics of leadership, build upon aviation knowledge and recognize their talents within the squadron. They prepare to become outstanding leaders in future years.

LEVEL 3

Level 3 is often the cadets' first experience in a leadership role, showing leadership in various positions. The cadets are evaluated on their drill, instructional and leadership abilities and aviation knowledge, even having the opportunity to run the squadron for a night.

LEVEL 4

Cadets in Level 4 are heavily tested on their drill and discipline, aviation knowledge, instructional and leadership abilities. They often shadow Level 5 cadets to better prepare for their role the next training year and aim to inspire younger cadets in the squadron.

LEVEL 5

Level 5 cadets play a crucial role in 8 Globemaster's success. They are instructors, mentors to flights and levels and plan and execute events and training exercises. The seniors aim to promote the Air Cadet program to younger cadets and guide them to become better leaders.

OPTIONALS BAND

IC: FSgt Chan, Wing Hong

2IC: Sgt Li, Daisy

Bandmaster: FSgt Li, Jacky

Band Team is instrumental in our performance during various parades. It is comprised of band flight and interested cadets. They provide cadets with an opportunity to develop their musical ability and band drill.

Members: Li D, Chiu H, Zhong K, Larionova L, Trang A, Li C, Chen B, Poovathingal J, Chen L, Ko K, Li J, Wong J

BIATHLON TEAM

IC: FSgt Huang, Frederic

2IC: FSgt Forchune, Alan

Our Biathlon Team gives cadets an introduction to cross-country skiing and marksmanship together. It requires tremendous endurance and strength, as well as skill, precision and conditioning. There are opportunities for summer and winter training experiences and opportunities to compete at the local, Provincial, and National level.

Members: Cho C, Huang F, Pu D, Romero C, Sar E, Wang A, Wang E, Zhu A, Kennedy D, Chan WH, Chit K, Forchune I, Gong R, Larionova L, Leung A, Liang M

CODING CLUB

IC: FSgt Ching, Issac

2IC: FSgt Li, Jacky

With technology being increasingly important in the new age, coding has become an essential skill cadets can also practice at 8 Globemaster Squadron. Those in this club get to expand and build their knowledge around technology and coding with experienced mentors.

OPTIONALS DRILL TEAM

IC: WO1 Huang, Michelle

2IC: WO2 Leung, Alesia

In Drill Team, cadets develop their stationary, marching and rifle drill movements. Members are held to a high standard of drill, dress and deportment. Cadets focus on precise timings and developing discipline through their drill routines.

Members: Bajwa A, Fan G, Gong R, Jun B, Kim C, Larinova L, Lu L, Rado K, Sim C, Sim T, Thacker P, Trang A, Wang A, Williams K, Zhang K, Zheng Z, Zhu A

DUKE OF EDINBURGH

As an international award, 8 Globemaster helps host it to allow cadets to grow their skills while having the opportunity to give the award a try at all levels. You get to learn how to submit proper plans for each section of your award, and practice skills in the outdoors, volunteering, physical activity and more.

EFFECTIVE SPEAKING

IC: FSgt Wang, Julian

2IC: Sgt Liu, Aniya

This team is a close knit group of people for cadets to practice their speaking skills and learn more about doing speeches. They learn tips and tricks in effective speaking, give and get feedback, and communicate effectively with the people around them.

GROUND SCHOOL

IC: WO1 Huang, Michelle

2IC: WO2 Leung, Alesia

The Ground School curriculum prepares cadets for the Glider and Power Pilots Scholarship Entrance Exam. Each year, a select number of 8 Globemaster cadets are awarded scholarships for an opportunity to earn their wings, one of the experiences within the Air Cadet Program that can't be found anywhere else.

OPTIONALS

HEALTH & WELLNESS

Members: Chau C, Cho C, Sar E, Low C, Huang M.

IC: WO1 Huang, Michelle

2IC: Sgt Sar, Evelyn

Cadets can always take a second to think of the health and wellness of themselves and the people around them, which is exactly what Health & Wellness Club does. With weekly meetings and notable guests coming in, you get to learn a lot such as first aid and self-care, leadership and decision making, and so much more.

MARKSMANSHIP

IC: FSgt Ho, Angus Pak Yin

2IC: Sgt Sar, Evelyn

The cadets of Marksmanship have the opportunity to build self-confidence while developing shooting skills, sportsmanship, sport etiquette, self-discipline, and focus. Shooting air rifles under watchful supervision is one of the many experiences all cadets have the opportunity to take part in, and try out for the team.

Members: Cho C, Huang F, Pu D, Romero C, Sar E, Wang A, Wang E, Zhu A, Kennedy D, Choy J, Ho A, Kwan K, Lee C, Liu D, Lu L, Ma K, Siu T, Wun I, Wun W, Zhang K, Tong H, Wong J, Huang R, Liu A.

MEDIA TEAM

IC: Sgt Liu, Aniya

2IC: Sgt Zhu, Chloe

As the communication bridge, Media Team supports creating content and posting to social media pages, and the squadron website. They are a dedicated group of creative individuals and communicators, with specialists who take photographs, produce motion graphics, video, graphic art, editorial layout, announcements, journal events, conduct interviews, and run virtual activities.

Members: Yong I, Cho C, Choy J, Tong H, Sar E, Lee C, Romero C, Liu A, Liu A, Ip V, Cao V, Thacker P, Zhu C.

OPTIONALS

ORIENTEERING TEAM

IC: Sgt Sar, Evelyn

2IC: FCpl Lee, Charmaine

The Orienteering Team practice their navigation skills as they race through a series of obstacles. The team learns to use topographical maps, a compasses in preparation for competitions at local, provincial and national levels.

Members: Fan G, Cho C, Chan K, Wang B, Liu S, Kwan K, Zhang K, Liu R, Larionova L, Lu L, Chan WH.

OUTDOORS TEAM

IC: FCpl Chit, Katilyn

2IC: FCpl Yu, Duncan

Some of the things that this club does are hiking, biking, canoeing, first aid, as well as the core cadet values such as being a part of a team- leadership and teamwork- physical fitness, and problem-solving through difficulty.

Members: Chan WH, Williams K, Lu L, Mazloom-Farfzaghy K, Ko K, Gong R, Yu C.

ROCKETRY TEAM

IC: FSgt Huang, Frederic

2IC: FCpl Chau, Chris

8 Globemaster Rocketry was founded in 2020. Over 2021- 2022, Rocketry Team cadets have learned about the different subsystems of a rocket and how they work together as well as Computer Aided Design. That knowledge was then applied, which led to the creation of Silver Dart, a rocket that is 87mm in diameter and stands 920mm tall. Rocketry is challenging even at a model scale. The cadets have learned, worked hard, and pushed through the challenges of designing and building a rocket. Silver Dart is complete and will be launched once a minor issue with our ground support equipment is solved.

Members: Chan WH, Cho C, Chu P, Ko K, Tong H, Wong J, Zhu A, Gong R.

EVENT HIGHLIGHTS

SPRING FTX

By: Cdt Liu, Anina

The first lesson in the morning was keeping personal hygiene in the field. Cadets were taught they should be keeping their undergarments clean, and should be changing them every day, as well as keeping them dry to prevent bacteria, and to always being extra, as if anything happens to them, you will have spare, as they are very important. Boots are to stay away from water, and are to be cleaned, and the dust should all be brushed away.

The second lesson was types of shelters: A-frame, in which there is a triangular prism with horizontal support, as well as a lean-to, in which there are two trees with a horizontal branch connecting them, and a tarp over it.

The next lesson was about fire, more specifically parts of creating a fire, how to create it, as well as a few risks. For lunch, level 1's received MRE's, meals ready to eat, for the first time. After, there was a lesson on knots and lashings, which were then applied to creating hoochies. The last lesson was respect the environment, with the main message that if you leave a place, you want to clean it up, and perhaps leave it in better condition.

OPERATION REVEILLE

By: FCpl Tong, Hannah

A while ago, 8 Globemaster Squadron hosted the very first Operation Reveille!

One of the first mostly squadron-wide events hosted after the pandemic, it was held over the course of three weekends.

It was open to senior cadets, and any other cadets who wanted to join. Over the duration of the events, cadets learned valuable leadership skills and lessons, and put them to use. Level

Three's also had their Leadership Evaluations, which most of the cadets passed easily. We all learnt important concepts, and the activities were fun and interesting!

All in all, it was an eventful experience that many cadets enjoyed.

THANK YOU

Thank you to our Patrons and donors for your continuing support to help make the cadet program an amazing experience for our young people.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Media Team would like to thank their hard-working members for their creativity, dedication, and overall excellent training year. Media Team would not have been possible this year without the support of Major Yu, IC Liu Aniya, 2IC Zhu Chloe, Senior Cadet Advisor FSgt Thacker Pearl, and members Cao V, Cho C, Choy J, Ip V, Lee C, Liu A, Romero C, Sar E, Tong H, Yong I.

With gratitude the Media Team would also like to acknowledge the contributions of the many staff and cadets, who have shown their support throughout the year with photo sharing, communication with leadership, and with your participation in our activities! Thank you all for a great training year, and we look forward to seeing you again for another wonderful 2022-2023 training year.
